Oh, goody! Fried chicken...
Wonder what's on T.V.?
LATER
Thank you, Mrs. Smith! Be sure to call whenever you need me again!
Forget it, doll! Next time they'll hire a sitter who's responsible!

Teen Wise!
Hey, Bobby... That guy's been dancing with Peg all night. Who is he?
That's my brother, Jim... He just got out of the Army!
My brother must be out of his skull... He leaves his beautiful date to jack it up with his friends!
Oh, Jim used to it! But tonight... I don't really mind!
Later
Well, Jim. What do you think of Peg? Isn't she terrific? She's not only beautiful she's got a great personality!
Yeah. She's a real nice girl. Good night, Bobby!
Shes the nicest girl I ever met... Oh, Hayes, what a rotten situation... I think I've fallen for her!
Monday
Oh, Golly! After meeting Jim Bobby just doesn't cut it with me any more... But what can I do about it!
To be continued.

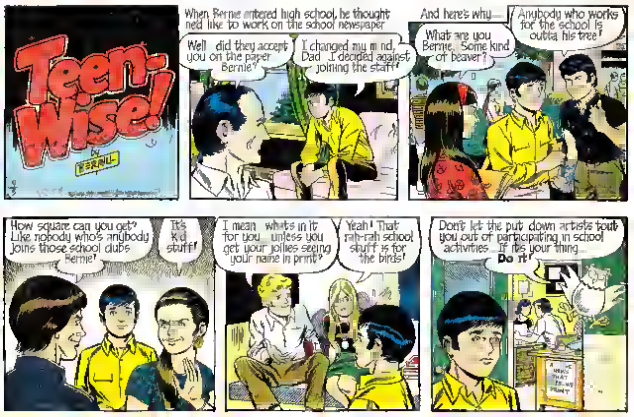
TEEN-WISE

by Jack Berrill

HEY...WHAT GIVES? YOU AND KAREN WALKED BY EACH OTHER AND NEVER SAID A WORD!
WE HAVEN'T SPOKEN TO EACH OTHER FOR MONTHS!
BUT YOU AND KAREN USED TO BE GREAT FRIENDS...WHAT HAPPENED?
WE HAD A FIGHT!
MUST HAVE BEEN SOME HASSLE!...WHAT DID YOU FIGHT ABOUT?
OHHHH...I... WE...GOSH, THAT'S FUNNY... I...I CAN'T REMEMBER!
Y' MEAN YOU TWO HAVEN'T TALKED IN MONTHS AND YOU CAN'T REMEMBER WHY!
OH...WAIT A MINUTE... I DO REMEMBER!
WE...ER...HAD AN ARGUMENT OVER RHODA'S WEDDING DRESS...I LIKED IT... SHE DIDN'T!
OH, WOW! WHY DON'TCHA GIVE HER A CALL?

Teen-Wise!
by BERRILL
Vinnie and Paul had a problem that many kids will soon have to face.
Sorry, boys...Things are so tight I just can't offer you jobs this summer!
A long, hot, boring summer of hanging out on street corners or lounging at the beach?
Man...That's fertile ground for trouble!
Nope! Vinnie and Paul went into business.
They realized there were plenty of cellars and yards to be cleaned...Lawns to be cut...Windows to be washed!
Well, let's start knockin' on doors!
Well...sure it looks nice...but we can't afford...
That's just it... Their price was so reasonable I couldn't resist hiring them!
That was the key...They didn't price themselves out of a good market by demanding top wages.
Man...You'd never catch me slaving for that low pay!
Yeah?...And how much bread do you have in your pocket?

Teen-Wise!
BY BERRILL
I'm ready to leave, Mom!
Here's your bus fare, April... Now, be sure you and Betty call home as soon as you arrive at Uncle Walt's farm!
Oh, Mom... You're always worrying! I'm fifteen now... I can take care of myself!
Never mind... You just don't realize how careful you have to be these days ...Make sure you and Betty sit near the bus driver!
A few minutes later.
'Bye, Mom... And don't worry!
Did you get that routine, too? My mother is the same way!
BUS TER
Well... We don't have much time... Let's get our tickets!
April... I've been thinking... We'd have a lot more spending money if we didn't take the bus to your Uncle's farm!
TICKETS
What do you mean?
I mean we ought to hitch hike!
To be continued.



Teen-Wise!
by
TERRELL
When Bernie entered high school, he thought he'd like to work on the school newspaper
Well... did they accept you on the paper, Bernie?
I changed my mind, Dad. I decided against joining the staff!
And here's why...
What are you, Bernie... Some kind of beaver?
Anybody who works for the school is outta his tree!
How square can you get? Like nobody who's anybody joins those school clubs, Bernie?
It's kid stuff!
I mean... what's in it for you... unless you get your jollies seeing your name in print?
Yeah! That rah-rah school stuff is for the birds!
Don't let the put-down artists talk you out of participating in school activities... If it's your thing...
Do it!